Brief Description:

Mrittika Nandy, Assistant Professor of the Department of Political Science, gave an extended lecture on the topic "Koutilya's Saptanga Theory" to the students of 3rd Semester honours.

Outcome:

This program is conducted within the departments of the college. The main focus is to give the students an understanding of a topic with respect to their syllabus from a person from a different field. The art of securing good marks lies in the fact how much diversified your understanding of a definite subject matter- and the faculty exchange program done by the department primarily harps on that aspect.
